A TRIPLE ELECTROCUTION IN NEW YORK STATE TODAY.

VanWormer Boys Pay Penalty for Their Uncle's Brutal Murder.

Burton First to Take Seat in The Death Chair.

Frederick Followed and Willis Came Third, The Three Electrocutions Occupying Only Fifteen Minutes—Story of the Crime and Last Hours Spent by the Three Brothers.

Dannemora, N. Y., Oct. 1.—A solemn hush hung over Clinton prison, this morning, and the bright skies of yesterday had given way to dull leaden clouds which threatened rain at any moment. Within their cells Willis, Burton and Frederick Van Wormer made final preparations to meet their maker. They spent practically a sleepless night and it was not until about 3 o'clock this morning that they went to sleep.

Shortly before 10 o'clock last night, Burton remarked that he was not afraid to die and would meet death bravely.

"I have no more fear of that chair," he said, "than I have of eating my supper. I can stand it to see the other two boys go and be the last to meet my fate."

The boys looked forward eagerly to the visit this morning of Father Belanger, and his assistant. The priests entered the prison shortly after 8 o'clock and went to the death house to administer the first and last communion.

White electrician Davis was at the prison to see that final preparations were complete. The prison barber visited them in their cells, and shaved a portion of the hair from their heads to allow the adjustment of the helmet.

When the death watch left the death house this morning the boys all shook hands with him and bade him goodbye, thanking him for the kindness he had shown them. Home, friends and their fate of tomorrow were freely discussed by the boys before they retired last night.

"I wish there were three chairs so we could all go together," said Fred. From 3 to 7:15 this morning the boys slept soundly.

At 8:30 Warden Devo said it had been decided to take in Willis, the oldest, first, Frederick, the youngest second, and Burton last. This arrangement was agreed upon by the boys themselves after a long discussion.

They decided that Willis should be permitted to go first because of his ill-health. Willis, throughout his long confinement here, has been afflicted with lung trouble.

The boys spent the greater part of last night in reading their Bible and gave especial study to a book expounding and explaining the Catholic faith which had been furnished them by Father Belanger. This they studied earnestly and it was passed repeatedly from one cell to the other, each marking passages which seemed to particularly interest them.

Although the boys retained their nerve, they did display some weakness on the final parting with the death watch. When it came to the final parting Fred broke down and wept.

Opening it, he saw four masked figures standing there, and in the first impulse of self protection did his best in his feeble way to repulse those whom he thought intended to invade his home. A fierce, melee followed in which some eighteen shots were fired, and when the smoke cleared away the old man was lying on his own doorstep with the life blood ebbing from several gaping wounds. A few minutes later he died.

The murderers having completed their foul work fled, and no traces of them could be found. For several days the mystery showed no sign of being cleared. Then suspicion for some reason turned to the three Van Wormer brothers.

In the mesh of suspicion fell Harvey Bruce, a companion of theirs, who was known to have been with them on the night of the murder. They were arrested and on Bruce turning evidence the whole mystery was cleared.

Bruce told how the four had ridden 36 miles from the VanWormer home at Kinderhook and gave the details of the crime.

The Van Wormers, seeing that their right denial would be unavailing, entered a plea of unintentional guilt. They said they had not intended to murder their uncle, but only wished to scare him. His death they said, resulted from the scuffle that occurred at the kitchen door. During the trial, however, the point was brought out that Hallenbeck had shortly before the time of the murder closed a mortgage on the VanWormer homestead at Kinderhook, and that ill-feeling had thus been engendered against him.

This fact militated strongly against the boys and they were found guilty of murder in the first degree. Bruce, for turning state's evidence, was let off with 18 years' imprisonment.

There was not a hitch in the execution, and the boys went to the chair, crucifix in hand, and apparently without a tremor. Frederick even looked on with interest while the straps were being adjusted which would send him to his death. It was said to be the most quiet and successful electrocution ever held in the state.

CONFLICTING

Opinions Regarding the Outcome of Big Grocery Combine.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.—Commenting on the grocers' combination just effected in Cincinnati, Secretary M. E. Weiffelbaugh, of the Ohio Wholesale Grocery Association, said:

"I do not see that the big combine of grocers is going to do us harm. Many of the members of the association are also constituents of the combination, and we have decided to work in harmony with the combine. I don't see anything wrong with the combine, either, for its stock is not watered and there can be no squeeze for there will always be value behind every share of the stock."

There were others in the committee and board who do not agree to this, and they are not at all pleased with the outlook. Some of the members stated that they were afraid the tendency to combine, now prevalent, would result in an artificial situation in which small dealers could not exist or contribute to the prosperity of the country by developing along the natural lines of trade. They were afraid that the artificial condition would endanger values and create a fictitious stimulus to business that would eventually become disastrous. Besides, many of them felt that in placing their business in the "big pool" as they call the combination, if disaster comes they cannot withdraw their business or save anything from the wreck, as they might be able to do if they were independent.

Never Owned Any Second Mortgage Bonds—He Was Opposed to the Combine—Gifts are Secured.

London, Oct. 1.—It having been widely reported that the fall in the value of the shares of the United States Steel Corporation would lessen the value of the gifts made by Andrew Carnegie, Mr. Carnegie announced that he never owned any of the corporation's second mortgage bonds, his being all first mortgage bonds. His statement is as follows:

"Mr. Carnegie never owned any second mortgage bonds or shares of the United States Steel trust. His bonds are first mortgage bonds, covering all the property, and are not quoted upon the stock exchange."

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—Cablegrams announcing that Mr. Carnegie's gifts to several Scotch cities had been made in Steel trust stock created some apprehension here. Mr. Carnegie having given to St. Louis $1,000,000 for a public library building. ### FRAUD

To Be Probed By Congress

Unworthy Officials to Be Removed

COURTS WILL PROTECT RIGHTS OF THE INDIANS.

REPRESENTATIVE STEVENS SAYS

Congress is Partly to Blame as Interior Department Was Given Too Much Power.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The interior department scandals in Oklahoma and the Indian territory will probably be probed by Congress soon after the next session begins. Representative Stephens of Texas, a member of the House committee on Indian affairs, says:

"The government should first clear its own skirts by removing the unworthy officials. As for the rights of the Indians, they will be protected by the courts. Every lease which has been secured through the machinations of the trust companies and '10 percenters' is certain to be annulled, when the courts get holds of it. But the President should direct the United States attorneys and their assistants to begin action for the annulment of these leases right away. Unless this is done, many of the leases may stand until the Indians are cheated out of the lands. The secretary of the interior should provide for the sale of the alienable lands only in long time, with annual payments bearing a low rate of interest. Unless this plan is adopted, the lands will eventually fall into the hands of a few men who will hold the real farmers in perpetual bondage as tenants."

"Congress is partly to blame for the abuses, because it has left too much power in the hands of the interior department."

The contest was pulled off at the Grand Opera house before 1000 people. Huber led off proudly with several minstrel turns. Then Braecklein waded in.

"Turkey in the Straw," "Home, Sweet Home" and several others were rattled out and still it seemed that there was an even break. Then Braecklein pulled the stops wide open on "Hawatha" and won in a walk.

SEVENTY-EIGHTH REUNION

Veterans of the Civil War to the Number of One Hundred at Memorial Hall--Sketch of the Regiment--Those Present--The Officers Elected.

The nineteenth annual reunion of the Seventy-eighth regiment, O. V. I., was held here Thursday with a large attendance, over one hundred of the old veterans answering roll call. A number of the old soldiers had not met since the war and there were many glad reunions.

This regiment was organized in the State at large, from October 24, 1861, to January 16, 1862, to serve five years. The original members (except veterans) were mustered out January 12, 1865, by reason of expiration of term of service, and the organization composed of veterans and recruits, retained in service until July 11, 1865, when it was mustered out in accordance with orders from Washington. During the war this regiment participated in the battles of Shiloh, Tenn.; Bolivar, Tenn.; Raymond, Miss.; Champion Hills, Miss.; Vicksburg, Miss. (siege of); Kennesaw Mountain, Ga.; Atlanta, Ga. (Hood's first sortie); Atlanta, Ga. (siege of); Lovejoy Station, Ga.; Bentonville, N. C., and other battles.

The reunion meeting was held in Memorial Hall, and was called to order at 10 o'clock after which the business meeting was held at which the various committees and other routine business was transacted.

The splendid dinner served by the ladies of the Relief Corps, was much enjoyed by the old veterans.

New Officers.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Daniel R. McLain, East Liverpool.

Secretary, H. M. Roach, Zanesville.

Treasurer, J. L. Geyer, Norwich.

The meeting Thursday afternoon opened with the singing of "America" by a choir of six singers, which was followed by the invocation by Rev. J. C. Schindel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, by the choir.

The address of welcome was delivered by Hon. A. J. Crilly, Mayor of Newark, and the response on behalf of the old veterans was made by Judge S. M. Hunter. Judge Charles H. Kibler delivered an address, "Soldiers of the Civil War," which was followed by music by the choir.

At the afternoon session of the convention Judge E. M. P. Brister delivered a very interesting address, in which he gave a short history of the regiment and the battles it participated in during the war of the rebellion.

Comrade Daniel McLain of East Liverpool, read the roll of honor followed by a song, "Blue and Gray," by Margaret Roach, the child of the regiment.

Hon. H. A. Axline of Columbus, delivered a fine address, after which a beautiful song was sung by the choir.

A camp fire will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which Captain Gillispie and Hon. Milton Turner will jolly the boys with old timers.

Upon a vote of the soldiers it was decided to make Zanesville the permanent place for regimental reunions hereafter.

An interesting fact developed at the reunion of the Seventy-eighth regiment. At the time the regiment was organized, Granville furnished seven men, one lieutenant, one corporal and five privates. Of these only one is now living, Mr. J. A. Weston, of Granville, who was in attendance at the reunion.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

Less than ten years ago the telephone was a luxury enjoyed by 160 subscribers in Newark. Today there are at least 2,000 telephone users in this city.

The Newark Independent Telephone company which by cutting the prevailing rate in half made it possible for the common people to have telephone service, has in the past few months, with its brand new plant, doubled its business. Last week several thousand feet of new cable was strung to accommodate the number of subscribers who are daily being added to the company's exchange.

The Newark Telephone company today announces a new service and a new rate on certain class of service. For $1 a month a four party line will be put in your home, for $1.50 a month an independent line in residence, for $1.25 a two party selective signal phone will be installed in your home. This style of instrument rings only the party wanted and is ideal service for families. Only two parties on the line and your bell rings only when you are wanted. For $1.50 a month the company puts in a four party business house line and for $2 a month an independent business house line is given.

Remember this is the company that is growing; this is the company that has 35 stations in Licking county; this is the company that has free service with the exchange at Granville; this is the company that has direct connection with exchanges at Hebron, Utica, Johnstown, Homer and Pataskala, and which gives a ten cent rate to all Licking county points; this is the company that made a 10 cent rate to Columbus possible; this is the company that has the Central Energy system that does away with the annoyance of ringing up Central; this is the company that is made up of more than 35 Newark men and women; this is the company that in the past year has spent $60,000 in rebuilding and enlarging its plant; this is the company that gives the better service.

Persons wishing telephone service are invited to look over our new subscribers' lists, are invited to inspect our new plant, and are invited to have the "new" phone installed.

The price is right, the service is good. Our franchise will not permit an advance in rates to exceed $2 a month. What would you pay for telephone service in Newark if it were not for the Independent company? What did you pay before this company was established? Think it over a little.

TRAPPISTS IN CANADA.

In this picture is shown a group of Trappist monks recently expelled from France. They drifted over into Canada and took possession of Chateau d'Eau, a branch monastery in the quaint town of Loreto, on the banks of the St. John river. Loreto is noted for its picturesque situation and beautiful waterfall. The Trappists, however, in accord with the rules of the order, which are noted for their extreme austerity, they hold themselves continuously prisoners in their establishment, living in protracted fasts, total abstinence from meat, fish, eggs and wine, severe manual labor, rigorous asceticism and perpetual silence, save at prayers, to which 11 hours daily are devoted. When they meet in the darkness of their immense and barren corridors, they greet each other with a "Memento, mori, frater," which means, "Remember, brother, that thou shalt die," and each monk digs each evening his own grave and sleeps on straw in a coffin.

HANNA'S COAL TRUST.

How It Squeezes Both Miners and the Consumers.

IT IS PREPARING TO BOOST PRICES

And Rob the People Again This Winter—A Timely Word of Warning From a Prominent Methodist Minister of the Gospel—Shall Hanna Control the Next Legislature and Attorney General?

Glouster, O., Sept. 28.—The hand of the soft coal trust lies heavy on the people of the mining regions of Ohio. For the trust is preparing to squeeze the consumers as soon as cold weather sets in and in order to do so the miners have been squeezed all summer. As is well known the soft coal mines of Ohio are practically all controlled by a more or less secret combination, of which the firm of M. A. Hanna & Co. of Cleveland is the chief member. Hanna's soft coal trust, working in connection with J. P. Morgan's hard coal trust, has a monopoly on the coal supply of the country.

Each winter, when prices are boosted and the people squeezed, Hanna and the other coal barons give as their excuse that railroad cars are scarce. A trip through this part of Ohio shows how false the claim is.

Even the ministers are up in arms over the rule of the coal combine in this region. Rev. F. R. Crooks, pastor of the Glouster Methodist Episcopal church, and one of the most able and progressive ministers in this part of the state, declares that a grave peril confronts the people. Unless relief was speedily afforded, he said, either voluntarily by the trust or through court proceedings instituted by the attorney general, a mass meeting would be called to demand better conditions.

"Conditions in both the Sunday Creek and Hoeking valleys," he said, "are such that they should command the attention of all students of industrialism. They forebode evil to society and the state. It is the history of monopoly over again. We are in the grip of the coal trust."

"The miners work only about one-third time. They are told that there is a shortage of cars. On the other hand, the consumer is told that the demand is greater than the supply, that the miners will not mine the coal, and that they are intertempore or given to holidays. Here, however, is a flat contradiction of those claims of the trust. The sidings and yards are full of loaded cars, while the miners go in troops to the mines day after day, only to have repeated the dismal story—no cars.

"Right here in the coal fields there is great demand for coal for domestic use, and it is found next to impossible to secure a pound. Schools and churches must burn the refuse of the mines, known as bone coal, and it is becoming more and more difficult to get that. It is pitiful to hear the universal cry: 'I don't know what I will do for coal. I can not get a pound of it at any price.'"

"All this has come about in the last year and a half, or since the coal trust was formed."

"What has been the general effect upon the community?" was asked.

Community Ruined.

"It is a blight upon education, industry and religion. Since the coal barons have bought up the lands farins are being abandoned, churches and schools forsaken and the country drifting back toward degeneracy and barbarism. The mines of wealth with which God stored the earth for man's happiness are through human greed perverted into a curse."

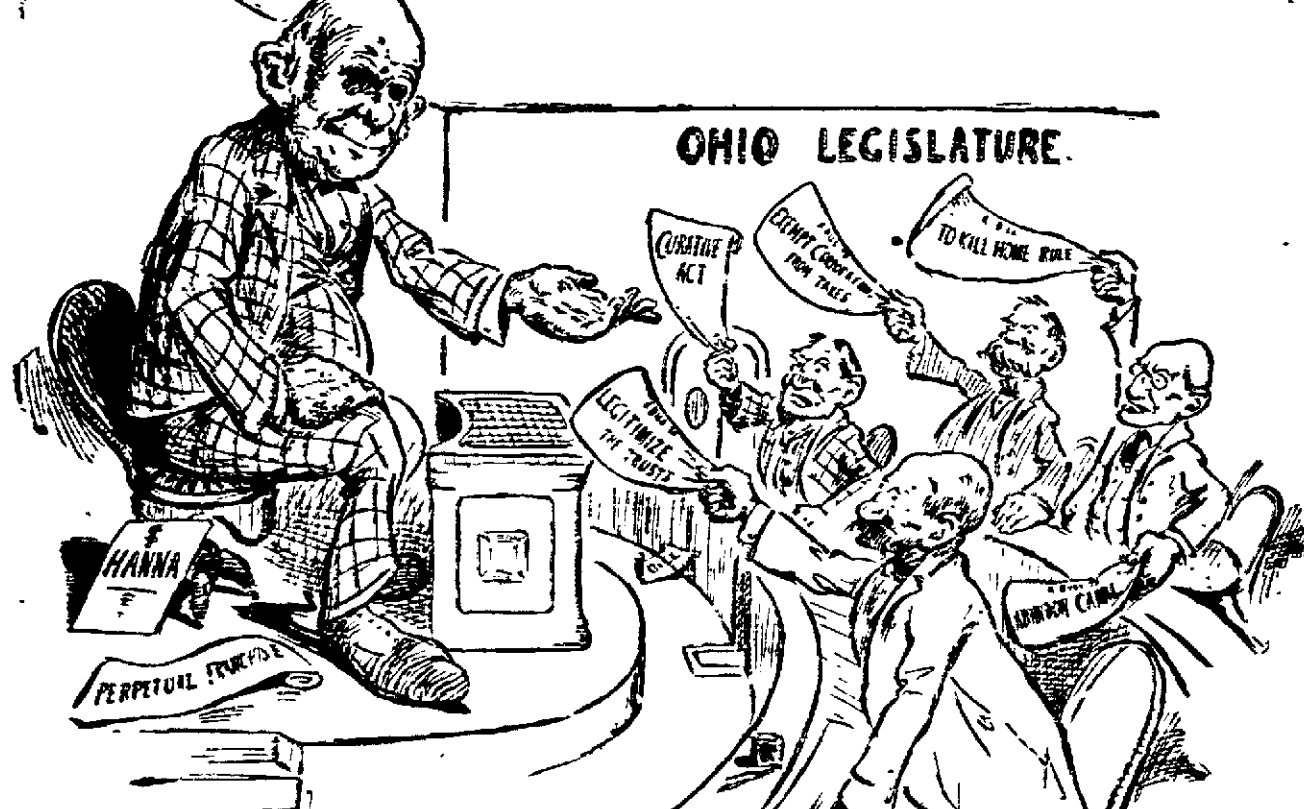

"These are a few of the blighting, awful effects of the coal trust. Where it will end no one knows. The people are at the mercy of a monopoly, as exacting in spirit and ultimate purpose as that which compelled ancient Israel to make bricks without straw."

"It is the consensus of opinion here that the coal trust is seeking to limit production to raise prices. The remedy—legislation. As a last resort—public ownership."

"The sufferers are not the miners. They were in former times, but monopoly has learned wisdom. The wise slave owner saw to it that his slaves were clothed and well fed. The Standard Oil company looks after its employees. But it is the consumer that is made to suffer. The heaviest burden is laid upon the widow, the orphan and the poor of the great cities."

"As a result of this monopoly a general paralysis is seizing upon all the industry and business life of this entire region. Its effects are deplorable and constantly growing worse. The demand for a remedy is imperative. A crisis is impending which demands action upon the part of the only power that can save this region from ruin. This power lies with the governor, the attorney general and the courts. We hope that it will be exercised promptly and effectively. Justice and the highest interests of the people of this valley demand action."

It goes without saying that an attorney general elected by Hanna will be as easy on the coal trust as Sheets has been and a legislature which will legislate Mark Hanna into the United States senate will not legislate Mark Hanna's coal trust out of Ohio.

DO THE PEOPLE OF OHIO WANT THIS FOR ANOTHER TWO YEARS?

—Columbus Press, Sept. 28.

MRS. JOHNSON AND THE RED DEVIL

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

No person in Ohio, not even Mayor Johnson himself, is taking a more intense interest in the events of the present campaign than Mrs. Johnson. For the past week she has been with the Red Devil in its journey across the state and she has proved to be more than an able ally for the immediate party traveling with the Democratic candidate for governor.

Mrs. Johnson had a delightful time traveling with the Democratic auto during two weeks of the campaign last fall and this fall she will probably spend at least three weeks as first aid to her husband during the thickest of the present great political contest.

Observations made last year have assisted the wife of the mayor to become an experienced campaigner, with a tremendous amount of enthusiasm. No day's program, no matter how difficult, dampens her ardor, as shown last week when, with Mrs. Johnson, the mayor drove 93 miles across country in the famous automobile and addressed four meetings.

Mrs. Johnson went through the day with flying colors and will look back upon it as one of the most enjoyable occasions of her life. The day was particularly enjoyable to Mrs. Johnson from the fact that the mayor was greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences.

Mrs. Johnson is entirely in sympathy with the cause which Mayor Johnson is representing over the state and she seeks opportunities to make votes. She rides on the front seat with a supply of literature within easy reach and nobody who comes near the auto goes away without being supplied.

"I generally give them three or four pamphlets and tell them to be sure and turn them over to their Republican friends," said Mrs. Johnson enthusiastically.

If great audiences and enthusiasm mean anything, then the mayor's wife is certain that the "right will triumph." When out campaigning Mrs. Johnson never misses a single meeting. She sits in the front row with her eyes fastened upon the speakers and sizes up every phase of the situation. She has become to be regarded as prompter to the mayor when he is occupying the center of the platform.

At one of the meetings held last week Mr. Johnson stopped abruptly in the middle of his address. He seemed at a loss for a moment for a word. It was at a point in his speech when he had been accustomed to digress from the many questions at stake and relate a story.

Now, Mrs. Johnson knows this campaign story word for word. She was just about to jog the memory of Mr. Johnson when the face of the speaker lighted up and looking down smilingly upon his wife, he said aloud: "I will tell it in a second, my dear." The crowd caught the situation at once and broke into a hurricane of cheers, cheers which were evidently intended just as much for Mrs. Johnson as for the Mayor. Mr. Johnson perhaps appreciated this little incident more than his wife.

On many times during the cross-country runs of the "red devil" Mrs. Johnson has been called upon to show her versatility. A tire gives way, necessitating repairs and a delay. Now, time is precious when citizens in a great state are to be shown the light in a political contest, and not a moment can be lost. By the time the repairs can be made and the next assignment reached the lunch hour will have passed. And so, as has happened many times, lunch must be eaten on the highway. And an admirable lunch Mrs. Johnson has proved herself able to provide. The "red devil" campaigning party is ready to testify as to the glorious coffee that can be prepared by Mrs. Johnson almost upon a moment's notice.

While the mayor's wife does not care to take a seat upon the platform either at the tent or hall meetings, she is not losing any chances to make converts. It is at the occasional stops that are made at farm houses along the way, that Mrs. Johnson impresses upon the minds of the good country folk that a vote for the Democratic ticket is the only correct thing.

All the various departments are full to overflowing with exhibits, and visitors at the Fair are more than interested. Wednesday's races are published in the fifth page of the Advocate today.

"Let every city and village in Ohio have home rule," says the Democratic platform, whose builders had seen the will of the people sacrificed by the Cox-Hanna alliance in the legislature. "Let well enough alone" and "Stand pat," says Hanna.

Hanna's street railway pays taxes on about 10 per cent. of its value, while the workingman's home is taxed on a 60 per cent. basis. "Tax both under the same rule" says the Democratic platform. "Let well enough alone" and "Stand pat," says Hanna.

Senator Hanna will control the next legislature if it is Republican. Hanna's attitude on the fellow-servant plank of the Democratic platform is well known. No person who works about dangerous machinery has much regard for himself or his family if he votes for Hanna's legislative candidates.

A mechanic who works about dangerous machinery may lose his life because his employer hired a careless man as his fellow-servant. His family can get nothing from the concern in whose interests the husband and father lost his life. "Change that law," says the Democratic platform. "Let well enough alone" and "Stand pat," says Hanna, the soft coal king and controller of the Republican party.

The Republican newspapers think it extremely funny that John H. Clarke should pledge himself to dispose of his national bank stock on taking his seat in the United States Senate, and thus avoid being unconsciously influenced in his vote by a desire to aid his private purse.

There was a time when such a standard of conduct was considered the proper thing. Senator Allen G. Thurman even required his wife to dispose of her government bonds, her private separate property, before he would enter the Senate.

Let us return to the rugged honesty of the sturdy old Roman.

The matter of regulating and controlling trusts and monopolies will engage the attention of the next Congress.

Senator Hanna is a banker, a shipbuilder, a railway magnate and a soft coal king. Can he be trusted to vote in the interests of the people, should their interests and his be different? The senator says that he will sacrifice politics for business if at any time he can't serve both. But will he resign his seat in the Senate when the clash of interests comes, or will he sit there and vote to help the railways, coal mines, shipbuilding concerns and national banks in which he is so heavily interested?

GOD HELP US.
"God help us," said Hanna in Chillicothe. Yes, God help us from any more ripping up of cities and villages for the benefit of Hanna and Cox. God help us from state auditors who take the taxes off the corporations and place them on the common folks. God help us from members of the legislature who take passes from the railroads and then return the favor in the shape of legislation that lightens the burdens of the railroads and correspondingly increases the burdens of the ordinary man. God help us from United States senators who control all the soft coal mines in the state and keep the price of coal way up and the wages of their employees way down. We fervently repeat, God help us from these evils.

A LITTLE SOBER CONSIDERATION.
Now that the mere sensationalisms that filled the Republican press covering the period of the Democratic State Convention, during which fabrication was substituted for news and information, have passed away, it is time that good sound, common sense should have an inning in the consideration of the things which really and directly affect the people of Ohio.

What do the people of this state, or any state, for the matter of that, want? Merely a plain, honest, just government; one in which the rights of all are impartially protected, with immunities and special privileges to none; one in which taxes shall be justly and equitably levied and faithfully collected; one in which the judgment of all the citizens shall be consulted; one in which the public welfare shall not be sacrificed to private good. In short, "a government of the people, for the people, and by the people."

This is a generalization of what the Democratic State Convention asked in behalf of the whole people of Ohio, and the candidates it nominated stand sponsor for the reasonable Democratic request. Who are opposed to the request and why are they opposed?

The solution of this question is one of great importance to the people, and if they will coolly study it, they will, without regard to former party fealty, enforce the demand in unmistakable terms.

The chief elements which prevent the existence of such a proposed form of state and local government, are the enormous corporations and the millionaire tax-dodgers. It is natural they should oppose it. Such a government would give them no undue advantage over their neighbors.

It is to the interest of all good citizens to bring about the reforms proposed by the Democracy. They will not be true to their own best interests if they fail to embrace the opportunity for reform.

In spite of the fact that the railroads furnished free tickets and special trains and the Republican managers furnished free lunch and free beer, the opening meeting of the Republican campaign at Chillicothe was a frost. There were less people there than Tom L. Johnson talks to nearly every evening in the tent.

In his speech at Chillicothe, Senator Harding said: "I voted for the curative act and if the opportunity presents itself again, I would vote the same way." Harding's vote for Cox's railroad was the price he paid for the place he has today on the Republican ticket.

Senator Hanna struck the keynote at Chillicothe when he cried "God help us!" But who is US?

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently. Show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encourage more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists.

NOT A TAX ON LAND.

The Single Tax is Levied Upon Land Values and Would Benefit Farmers.

The so-called single tax is in no sense an issue in this campaign, and yet the Republican leaders seek to use it to frighten voters. They talk about it as a system of taxation which would greatly increase the taxes of the farmer. This is not true. On the contrary, it would greatly reduce the taxes of the farmers and small home owners. The single tax is not a tax on LAND, BUT A TAX ON LAND VALUES. The farmers at present pay more than 50 per cent. of the taxes of this state, and the farmers own less than 10 per cent. of the land value of the state. So that if the revenues were raised by taxing land values, as the single tax proposes, the farmers would pay only one-fifth as much taxes as they do now.

The farmers have comparatively little land value. An acre of ground in the center of a great city like Cincinnati is worth $5,000,000. No farm has any $5,000,000 land in it. The best argument in favor of the single tax is the fact that the privileged corporations of the state are fighting it. They know that the single tax proposes to take the burden off the farmer and the laboring classes and place it on monopoly, where it belongs.

Under the single tax the farmer who works hard and improves his farm would not be taxed for his industry. He would not have to pay any more taxes than the man who allows his farm to lie idle and undeveloped. In thinking of land values, the farmer should consider all the coal lands and all the other valuable mines of the state, the water power privileges, the railroad rights of way and terminals, including street railroads, telephones and telegraphs, for these are built on the most valuable lands; all the gas and the electric lighting rights of way, built on land of great value, and all the city lots, some of which are worth more than a whole county of farming land. Remember it is not ACRES, but VALUES, that the single tax is on.

PLATFORM CONCISELY PUT

Tom L. Johnson in Speech at Springfield Wednesday Night Told the People Their Duty—Voters Asked to Consider the Issues of the Campaign.

Springfield, O., Oct. 1.—An immense crowd heard Tom L. Johnson speak here last night.

In his speech Mr. Johnson, as usual, talked little democracy and much humanity. The platform he succinctly explained thus: "We declare for home rule and just taxation; for the initiative; the right to ownership of public utilities; franchises to be submitted to a vote of the people; two cent steam railroad fare."

We declare against: Government by injunction; waiver of injury claims by employees; acceptance of passes by public officials; fee system in county offices.

"If you favor these principles, vote the Democratic ticket in November. No other party will carry them out or even promises to carry them out. If you don't favor these principles do not vote the Democratic ticket."

"God help us!" says Senator Hanna. Who is us? The people or the privileged corporations of which he is the leader and defender?

"Raise your voices for Senator Hanna in November and his coal trust will raise your prices in December."

"Do you want your votes to count for the common rights of common men or for more special privileges for the favored few?"

"In this campaign the Democratic party is merely urging issues on the attention of the people. Every citizen is asked to consider, not as a Republican nor as a Democrat, but as a voter and a tax-payer, whether these issues are of importance to him."

"I don't ask any man to scratch a good Republican and vote for a bad Democrat. I won't do it myself."

"Every Republican should scrutinize the public life and record of the men he has helped elect to office and he should be as ready to punish the unfaithful as to reward the faithful."

"Every Democrat should strike, and strike hard, any Democrat elected to office who has been untrue to the trust reposed in him."

"Senator Hanna, I see by the papers, told the Republicans of Erie county, that it was their duty to forget factional differences and vote the ticket straight; it was the duty of every Republican to see to it that a big majority was polled from start to finish—that is what he preached. And that is statesmanship. When a man like Senator Hanna can find no better argument for his party it is small wonder that he feels himself in desperate straits and calls on God to save him."

"We don't ask Democrats to vote our ticket because they are Democrats or because we are Democrats. We'll show them, if we can, that to vote the Democratic ticket is for the best interests of the whole people. If any Democrat thinks that the candidates on the Democratic ticket do not stand for the things that are right it is his duty, as a good citizen, to vote against them. You Republicans, make Senator Hanna show you that it is to your interest."

FIRST DAY'S RACING

High Class Sport That Satisfied the Crowd—Two Harness Events With Good Finishes—J. H.
Swisher's Horse a Winner of 2:17 Pace.

The opening day's races at the Licking county fair, proved to be high class sport and the large crowd that saw them, was well satisfied. The two harness events were the 2:35 trot, and the 2:17 pace, each of which furnished good finishes. In the trotting event the race was between Boneta and Stella G, the other two horses not being contenders. The first heat went to Boneta in a mild drive, while Stella G deciding heat was won by the Swisher entry, Boneta. The horses were sent away to a good start, but on rounding the first turn, Stella G broke so badly that she was brought almost to a standstill before she regained her stride. She came in third but High Loch, who finished second, was set back to third place for running. The 2:17 pace was a good race, but was won in straight heats by Harry R. who had the speed of the seven starters and was most skillfully driven. Pedlow looked to have the third heat won, but by a great drive through the stretch Harry R beat the Booth horse a couple of lengths. The running race was won by Lapsey, who won the second and third heats. King Oscar taking the first. The starting barrier was used for the first time and was a success. The starting was done in a most satisfactory manner by Lew Jack, of Blanchester, who has acted in the same capacity in Newark on several previous occasions to the entire satisfaction of every one. The judges were Burton Case, Seymour Smith and Harry Burkham, while Charles Brown and H. V. Hardy held the watches. WOMEN FAINTED

As Balloonist at County Fair Ground Fell Wednesday Afternoon—Colored Billy Rogers Had a Very Narrow Escape from Death

Billy Rogers, colored, aged about 30 years, was badly injured Wednesday afternoon on the Licking county fair grounds in the presence of hundreds of people. Rogers is an aeronaut and was scheduled to make a balloon ascension at the fair Wednesday and Thursday. The balloon was inflated and Rogers gave the word to let go, and the huge bag shot up into space carrying with it the fearless performer hanging to a trapeze bar.

It did not ascend to a great height until it was seen that something was wrong, and it careened to one side and then fell rapidly toward the earth, Rogers falling through the upper branches of a tree. The balloon dragged him free from the tree, and hurled him against the horse stables, near-by, with crushing force. Spectators cut the rope that held him to the trapeze bar, and he was picked up unconscious, with every symptom of concussion of the brain.

The scene of the accident was not more than 150 yards from where the balloon started to make the ascent, and many people saw the balloonist strike the shed. The force with which his head and body crashed against the boards was so great that the impact was plainly heard in the grand stand at the race track.

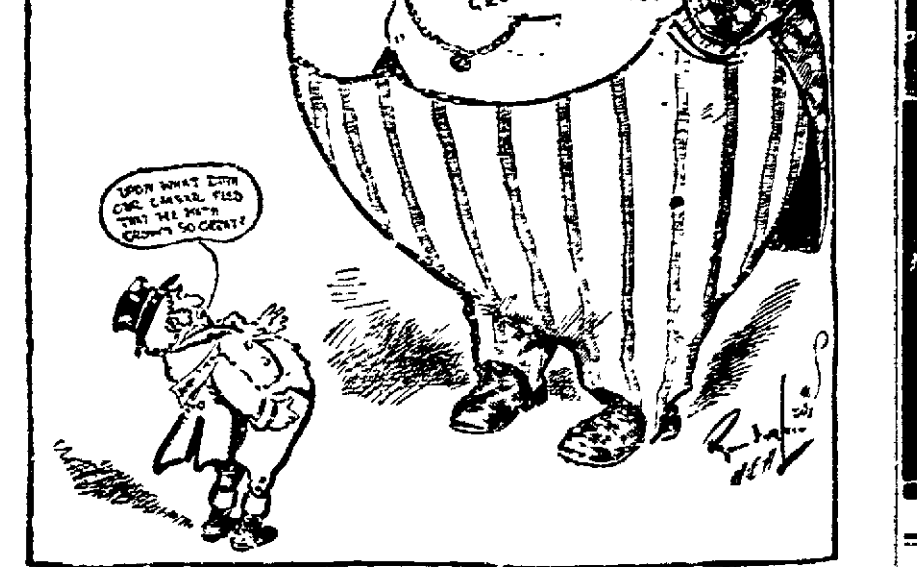

A crowd soon surrounded the injured man, and was with difficulty kept back by officers John Scott and "Doc" Brooke, who attempted to give the man every attention possible.

For a long time he lay as one dead, not a muscle moving, and no sign of respiration being apparent. Dr. S. D. McClure made a hasty examination and said the man was still alive, but did not give any opinion as to the extent of his injuries.

Later in the evening he recovered consciousness, and insisted that he would make an ascension Thursday. Rogers is a married man and lives in Dayton. He has been making ascensions for three years and this is said to have been his first accident.

He came here from Bellefontaine where he had trouble with his balloon but made successful ascensions.

Several women in the crowd who witnessed the accident were overcome by the terrible sight, and had to be assisted away from the scene.

Alcohol in Liquid Kidney Remedies Keeps up Fever
EDWARD MESS TOOK WARNING FROM THE DEPOSITS AND CURED HIMSELF.

Edward Mess of Norwood, O., writes Aug. 15, 1903: "Sometime ago I noticed deposits in my urine and almost at the same time left pains in my back. A friend recommended a box of Kidney-Wort Tablets as a remedy, and I am glad to say that they relieved me quickly, and I am now in perfect health."

Kidney-Wort Tablets cure desperate kidney and bladder diseases that are beyond the control of all other remedies. Don't be afraid of the word's "kidney disease." Taken in time, it is very easily cured. All kidney disorders are not equally dangerous. The peril is in allowing one of the milder forms to grow into more dangerous sort. Beware of all liquid kidney remedies. They contain alcohol.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The opening in wheat was under last night's close, and for a time it looked like a lower market, but St. Louis buying of December against their sales of May corn. Several important elevator people bought December and the premium between it and May narrowed to 1-2 cent. This is an artificial sign and situation and either May is too cheap or December is out of line. Near the close Galveston reported 650,000 bushels cleared making a total of 1,000,000 on the day. The closing prices at the best.

There was tremendous selling in corn from the bears and tired longs. The market had some recovery in the last hour. Corn is a purchase on reactions. Buy oats.

Practice continues every night at the Y. M. C. A. Athletic field, the candidates for the football team being given a thorough work-out by Coach Clarence Dille and Captain Martin.

Preparations are progressing in the best possible shape for the game with the New Avenue Athletic club next Saturday, and the local team is very confident of winning the game. Coach Dille has an abundance of good material both as to weight and speed and expects to have the best team that has represented Newark on the gridiron for years. Captain Martin will be played at fullback in Saturday's game, while Dille will play one of the half back positions. The other half will be played by Barnard Graham, in all probability while Homer Jones will receive the ball from center rush Seward. This backfield is not so heavy, but in speed and knowledge of the game, they are in the first class. With two more heavy weight backs Dille will have a formidable lot of players behind a strong rush line. During the season the men will be worked with an idea of developing as strong a game on offense, as is possible, while the defense tactics will also be given due attention.

Dille is a fine player and knows the game, having been a member of the championship O. S. U. team two years ago when Eckstorm had the scarlet will not only add strength to the team, but will inspire the other players with confidence and determination to do their very best at all times.

With the material at his disposal it is reasonable to suppose that Dille will turn out a team that should give a good account of themselves in any company.

Big Eastern Teams Played.

Yale defeated Tufts Wednesday by a score of 19 to 0, all the points being made in the first half. In the second half substitutes went into the Yale line-up. Yale beat Tufts last year 24 to 6.

Harvard defeated Bowdoin 24 to 0, which shows up strongly against the Crimson's 17 to 0 victory of 1902. Harvard's line on the right side showed up very weak and was punctured time and again for good gains.

Princeton opened her season Wednesday with a 34 to 0 victory over Swarthmore, which team the Tigers beat last year only 12 to 0. Princeton used only straight football and Captain DeWitt made good gains when called on to carry the ball. The big ex-guard is not certain yet where he will play, being equally good at guard, tackle and half.

Pennsylvania defeated Franklin and Marshall by a score of 17 to 0, just one more point than they scored against the same team last year.

Other eastern games resulted as follows:

Dartmouth 12, Massachusetts Agricultural College 0.

Lehigh 40, Manhattan 0.

Brown 23, Colby 0.

Kenyon Freshmen as Rubbers.

In marked contrast is the football spirit of the students who do not play the game at Kenyon and Ohio Wesleyan. At the Gambier school, the freshmen are standing ready to do anything they can in the way of helping the varsity men keep in best of trim.

At the Methodist school, the fellows who were asked to assist, want to be paid for the hour or so each day that is to be put in.

When Kenyon college opened, President Pierce addressed the freshmen something like this: "Every freshman year and new men registered to replace them.

"Jimmy" Biram, who captained the team last year, and was rivaled as a player by Pierce alone, has been re-elected captain and on his return from fossil digging in the bad lands will probably be fit for hard work.

The college is to be congratulated on securing as coach John B. Hart, Jr., who will be remembered for his work at halfback with Charley Gould's 1901 Yale team. For some years Amherst has followed the Harvard style of play under the advice of her old captain, Wm. H. Lewis, now Harvard's coach. Last year a change was made, largely at the instance of the advisory athletic committee, and the Yale system introduced under Gould. In spite of the handicap of changing systems, Gould achieved phenomenal success, no less in the condition in which he kept the men than the football he has taught them.

John B. Hart, Jr., is Gould's choice as his successor and his training in the Yale system, his exemplification of the Yale spirit and his knowledge of Gould's methods at Amherst should make him a fit successor.

Hart comes from Cincinnati. He played halfback with his brother Ridgway, now halfback at Princeton, on the Hill House high school team of New Haven, later two years as sub-halfback at Yale and finally regular halfback.

Hart has the distinction of being the lightest man to play against Harvard in recent years, his weight in the 1901 game being 135 pounds. He was

CLEVER INDIANA GIRL IS
REGULAR SHERLOCK HOMES

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 1.—Miss Eva Smithwick, of this city, the youngest and one of the most clever of the women secret service operatives in the employ of the government, who has been visiting her home here, has returned to Chicago, whence she will go to Washington. She has just returned from Mexico, where she has been in quest of evidence for the postal authorities.

Miss Smithwick is 22 years of age, and has been engaged in detective work for the past two years. Her most intimate friends did not know that she was in the employ of the secret service. It was known to her friends that she spent a great deal of her time from home and that she traveled extensively.

Miss Smithwick is one of the prettiest young women in Albany, and is a clever conversationalist. Her work in the government service has been confined to the investigation of postal frauds, and she bore a prominent part in the Cuban investigation.

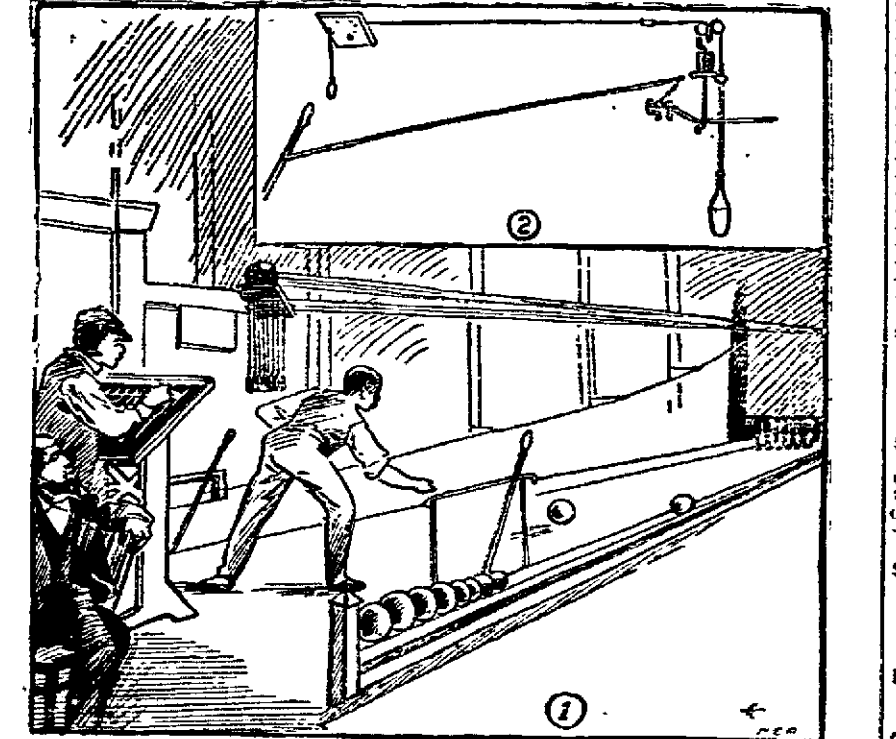

Mrs. Cora Smithwick, mother of Miss Smithwick, admitted today that for the past two years her daughter has been engaged in secret service work.

New Coats for Autumn Wear.

These little coats are in red and brown respectively. The red coat has trimmings of velvet of a darker shade edged with a gilt braid and fastened in the front (double-breasted fashion) with large pearl buttons. Two little capes cross the shoulders and the full sleeve is banded into a shallow cuff. The brown is made with a turn-over collar and capes trimmed with velvet and puffed sleeves with turn-over cuffs.

AUTOMATIC PIN SETTER DOES PIN BOYS' WORK

From Germany comes information of an automatic pin setter that should be a boon to alley owners. No longer will the bowler be compelled to yell at the pin boy, "Clear out that dead wood," or "Get No. 6 on the spot, kid." Then, too, the alley owners should welcome the innovation in this age of labor saving machinery.

In brief the invention consists of a box placed over the pin position, through which the pins are suspended by wires, the bottoms being about one and a quarter inches from the alley bed.

Rung thus, they oscillate freely. When the angle, resulting from oscillation, reaches the point where the leased and the pin is jerked into the box. When a strike is made the pins disappear instantly.

From the pin box, wires run along the left of the alley to the bowler's position. As each pin is lifted from the alley, a corresponding pin at the foul line drops, thus showing to the scorer the pins remaining.

To return the balls a simple device is arranged. A slow ball drops into a groove, inclined to the right, into a small shaft, where an iron tongue catches it. By pulling the lever on the right of the foul line, the ball is raised to the ball run and returned to the bowler. A fast ball will run up an incline and return of its own momentum. The pins are returned to

ANSWER IT HONESTLY

Are the Statements of Newark Citizens Not More Reliable than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is the vital question. It is fraught with interest to Newark.

It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Newark citizen speaks here. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof.

C. W. Manville, 257 West Main St., says: "The lagrippe left my kidneys in bad condition. They did not act properly. At the same time I suffered terribly with pain in my back just over the kidneys. I just about gave up trying anything in the hope of getting better, when with the natural desire to test a well-recommended remedy, I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at Crayton's drug store. ## RESIGNATION

OF THE REV. JOHN MONTGOMERY IS REFUSED.

Lima Presbytery Denies Minister the Right to Leave Findlay and Go to East Liverpool.

Rev. John Montgomery, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Newark, the predecessor of the Rev. Lester S. Boyce, has been denied the right to resign his pastorate at Findlay, Mo. Montgomery received a call from the Presbyterian church of East Liverpool and desired to accept it, but the Findlay congregation, unwilling to let Mr. Montgomery leave, persuaded the Presbytery to deny him the right to remove. The following from Lima, Ohio, tells of the action:

Lima, O., Oct. 1.—At the closing sessions of the Lima Presbytery, embracing churches throughout Northwestern Ohio, Rev. John Montgomery, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Findlay, was denied the right to resign under ban of the "Episcopal authority." Rev. Mr. Montgomery had received a call from the First church, of East Liverpool, O., the largest in wealth and membership of any Presbyterian church in Ohio. He made an eloquent appeal for the acceptance of his resignation, but a large delegation from Findlay, accompanied by two attorneys made addresses against him, stating his work there was not finished, and on vote the Presbytery unanimously denied him to remove.
